

Emergent Literacy Presentation

Louise E. Hoogerhuis

From the beginning reading is a time when I feel held and loved! I will always REMEMBER you reading to ME!

Let's get COZY together!

What's going on when we're reading together?

- * Building Relationships TOGETHER

- * I'm learning new words

- * I'm learning to rhyme

- * I'm learning that I have favorites

- * I am learning repetition

- * I will retell you the story – through the pictures

- * We will sing together

- * I will learn to sit and focus because we do this TOGETHER!

Human relationships take many forms but the most intense, most pleasurable and most painful are those relationships with family, friends and loved ones. Within this inner circle of intimate relationships, we are bonded to each other with "emotional glue" - bonded with love.

Dr. Bruce Perry

Sharing Memories.....

Let's take a few moments to add to the chat your memories.

The acts of holding, rocking, singing, feeding, gazing, kissing and other nurturing behaviors involved in caring for infants and young children are bonding experiences. Dr. Perry

Talking and Listening

Imagination and Creativity – My Brain will thank you for it....

90% of a child's brain development occurs before the age of 5.

Our Everyday Lives and Routine

IN A WORLD OF SOMETHING ALL I NEED IS NOTHING.... (K. HOFFMAN)

It's a DIGITAL WORLD!

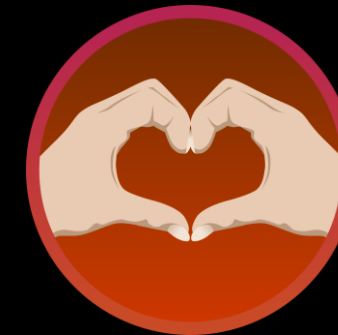

When used wisely,
technology and media can support learning and relationships. Enjoyable and engaging shared experiences that optimize the potential for children's learning and development can support children's relationships both with adults and their peers.

-NAEYC

Missing Out!

There is conflicting evidence on the value of technology in children's development. -- National Association for the Education of Young Children

